Exciting Exhibit Opening at the NCWM~Vice and Virtue in the Civil War

(Harrisburg, PA) – The National Civil War Museum is hosting an exhibit opening for ‘Tell Mother I’ve Been Good: Vice & Virtue in the Civil War’ on January 20, 2015 - 5:30pm to 7:30pm. The evening will include refreshments, an exciting presentation and conclude with a tour of the new exhibit with Museum curator Brett Kelley. Join museum CEO and historian, Wayne Motts, as he presents “With Bible and Sword: Chaplains in the American Civil War,” exploring the history and role of chaplains in the Union and Confederate service during the Civil War. Hear their inspirational story in camp and on the battlefield.

Cost to attend is $10.00 per person and is free to Museum members. Reservations are required and can be made by contacting the Museum at info@nationalcivilwarmuseum.org.

Wayne E. Motts is the chief executive office of the National Civil War Museum. He is a licensed battlefield guide at the Gettysburg National Military Park and the author (with James Hessler) of Pickett's Charge at Gettysburg: A Guide to the Most Famous Attack in American History released this past summer.

“Tell Mother I’ve Been Good: Vice & Virtue in the Civil War” exhibit will open to the public on January 21, 2016 and run to December 31, 2016.
