And Then There Were Two Free Lectures in 2017 at The National Civil War Museum

(Harrisburg, PA) – The National Civil War Museum announces four new programs in the 2017 Lessons in History Lecture series. These outstanding speakers are presented to the public free of charge and are offered once a month:

- Friday, 17 November, 6:00-8:00 pm “Hood Boys The Texas Brigade” with Dr. Susannah Ural, University of Southern Mississippi. A reception with light refreshments will begin at 6:00 pm and the program will begin at 6:45 pm. Books will be available in the Museum bookstore. A book signing will be held before and after the program.
- Saturday, 9 December, 1:00 - 2:00 pm "A Devastating Team: The Mississippi Flotilla and Joint Operations in the Mississippi River Valley” with Dr. Terry Beckenbaugh, Air War College.

The 2017 Lessons in History program is free to the public. Regular museum admission applies for entrance to the museum galleries.

About The National Civil War Museum: Opened in February 2001, The National Civil War Museum, a member of the Smithsonian Institution Affiliations Program, is a non-profit private educational institution dedicated solely to the American Civil War. It is one of the largest museums in the world which interprets the entire American Civil War from a military and civilian perspective. The Museum preserves and exhibits some of the nation's treasures, including General Robert E. Lee's personal Bible, and more than 24,000 artifacts, documents and photos. Admission to the Museum is $12.00 for adults, $11.00 for seniors, and $10.00 for students with reduced rates for children and families. The Museum offers complimentary ample parking. For more information, please call 717.260.1861, or visit the Museum's website at www.nationalcivilwarmuseum.org. Connect with us!
