THE BUSINESS OF WAR MAKES $ENSE AT THE NCWM

(Harrisburg, PA) – The National Civil War Museum announces a new exhibit “The Business of War.” The Business of War exhibit will discuss how private businesses adapted to a war economy and contributed to or detracted from the war effort in their Union or Confederate sphere of influence. The exhibit will focus on businesses that worked with their respective governments and how that relationship helped or hurt both parties. Special attention will be paid to companies that have stood the test of time and continue to operate to this day. Opening day for The Business of War exhibit will be January 26, 2019 and will run until December 31, 2019.

The NCWM proudly highlights specific topics of the American Civil War with two specialized exhibits each year, included in the cost of regular admission to the Museum.

There will be a special presentation on January 26, 2019 2:00 pm - 3:00 pm with Jeffry Wert on his book “Civil War Barons.” This presentation is free to the public. Regular Museum admission applies for entrance to the Galleries.

For a complete listing of other events at the Museum, please visit the Museum website: www.nationalcivilwarmuseum.org or call 717.260.1861.

About The National Civil War Museum: Opened in February 2001, The National Civil War Museum, a member of the Smithsonian Institution Affiliations Program, is a non-profit private educational institution dedicated solely to the American Civil War. It is one of the largest museums in the world which interprets the entire American Civil War from a military and civilian perspective. The Museum preserves and exhibits some of the nation's treasures, including General Robert E. Lee's personal Bible, and more than 24,000 artifacts, documents and photos. Admission to the Museum is $13.00 for adults, $12.00 for seniors, and $11.00 for students with reduced rates for children and families. The Museum offers complimentary ample parking.
